

MS. HOUGHTON'S CLASS RULES

There are three basic rules for this classroom:

1. Be professional. This rule includes, but is not limited to: turning in quality work on time, being punctual to class, coming prepared for all aspects of class, letting me know ahead of time when you will be absent for any reason, retrieving missed handouts and assignments from the folders, being responsible for scheduling a time to make up tests and quizzes, etc.
2. Be respectful. This rule includes, but is not limited to: respect for the ideas, opinions, contributions, and property of your fellow students, respect for my position as your teacher and behaving accordingly, listening to each other, raising your hand (unless otherwise noted), etc.
3. Learn something everyday. No matter what it is, take advantage of our class time together and learn something. You have to be here- make it worth our while!

Beyond these, all other school rules apply and will be strictly administered.
