Points of Interest

This is the end of a great year. We have had a lot of new challenges and interesting tasks. All in all, the kids have been very receptive to change.

There will not be any summer AR reading for points. AR will resume on August 23rd.

The last day of school is June 4th, which is an early release day.

We do encourage you to continue reading with your child over the summer. This will help with comprehension and fluency.

Parents Special Note:

Parents, please check your child's room and backpack for school textbooks. Many of them are coming in without their textbooks, which makes it difficult to keep up with required readings.

IF you have any questions about the results of your child's TAKS tests, please feel free to contact your child's reading, math, or science teacher.
